Compline

“Prayer at the close of day” is another way of thinking about Compline. Monks prayed the Divine Office every day, marking the changes in time. This consisted of seven hours: Matins-Lauds, Prime, Terce, Sext, None, Vespers, and Compline. Compline was traditionally sung at 10pm or later. The purpose of this service was to thank God for the day and bless the night before the monks went off to bed. It is a service of quiet, non-hurried reflection. In the 1549 Book of Common Prayer, the Divine Office was shortened, most notably None and Vespers were combined to make Evensong. Compline still remains and it is still sung at many churches around the world.

This service is open to people of any background and religion. All are welcome.

As we embark on this journey of Compline together, let us take wisdom from Simeon.

*Lord, you now have set your servant free to go in peace as you have promised;
For these eyes of mine have seen the Savior, whom you prepared for all the world to see:*

A Light to enlighten the nations, and the glory of your people Israel.

*Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit;
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be. Amen.*
